Comprehensive Plan Will Include Provisions For Continued Update

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Now that town officials, six citizen task forces and a planning consultant have almost finished updating Andover's master plan — a plan that has not been revised since 1965 — they are considering a plan to keep it up to date.

Under the direction of comprehensive planning consultant Ronald Curran, the Planning Board, task forces, Community Development and Planning staff and other town officials and staffers have been working on a revised master plan for more than a year.

Tuesday night, Curran presented the board with part of his rough draft, which will be returned to the task forces for their comments next month. Curran will incorporate changes suggested by task force members into a second draft, to be presented to the planners in November. The board, Curran, and Community Development and Planning Director Jonathan Gilmore will then edit the second draft into final form.

In the preface to his first draft, Curran writes that the purpose of updating the master plan is to consolidate and update all the existing planning documents currently used in Andover — and to create a process for reviewing and, if necessary, changing the plan every year.

Curran recommended that a planning process very similar to the one that's been underway for the past 12 months be followed each year to keep the town's master plan current. His suggested calendar:

Each May, the town manager, planning board, and representatives of all town boards, commissions and committees meet with department heads and division chiefs to re-establish citizen task forces and study groups to review the master plan. Task

Andover ABC Begins 17th Year

Andover ABC and new resident directors Patty and Barry McCloskey began the organization's 17th year September 8 when they welcomed two new high school students to Andover. At a meeting of students, host families and friends on Sunday, Sept. 11, at the ABC House, the students were introduced. The new arrivals are:

Kelly Abercrombie from Newark, N.J. Kelly has a younger brother and a younger sister and attended University High School. She is interested in drama, art and track and recently participated in an Introduction to Urban Engineering program at the New Jersey Institute of Technology.

Jeannette L. Molina from Brooklyn, N.Y., is considering the prospect of medicine or social work for her future. She has one older sister and two older brothers.

The McCloskeys were chosen from a number of couples who applied to replace Jason and Bernadine Sommers who moved to St. Louis where Jason will direct the program in creative writing at Webster University. The McCloskeys moved to Andover from Methuen in 1982 and both have had previous and ongoing experience working professionally and as volunteers with young people. Patty did volunteer work for a number of years as a religious instructor and has taught reading to non-readers at the Lawrence Public Library. She is an audio-visual technician at Phillips Academy where she has worked since 1981.

Barry served in the infantry in Vietnam and is a 1979 graduate of Boston College Law School. He works as an employee of the Department of Defense. He has also done work with adolescent girls having emotional problems. At the Rotenberg School in Chelmsford Barry did child-care counseling and organized and coached a basketball team. In his days at Steubenville College in Ohio he played football and basketball and has coached girls' basketball and softball teams in Haverhill and Methuen.

The McCloskeys have two daughters. Erin is a sixth grader at West Elementary and is actively interested in music and various sports. Shawna is a junior at Andover High School where she is a member of the peer counselling group and captain of the girls' basketball team. She is also on the track and soccer teams.

Mr. and Mrs. McCloskey offer the following comments about their objectives for the ABC program: "We have had extensive exposure to adolescents in many different ways. We hope to create a comfortable, caring, loving environment for the students, one which will enable them more readily to experience academic success, personal growth and social enrichment. We also hope that there will be a lot of fun involved in the program for all of us."

ABC (A Better Chance) is a national program that offers qualified students from poorer communities the chance to attend high school in a richer and more academically challenging environment. Twenty-two communities accept ABC students into their public schools, at no cost to the students. Local financial support is derived from foundations, businesses and individual contributions. ABC nationally also has affiliations with approximately 100 private boarding schools and 20 day schools.

Following a decision by Andover ABC's directors last spring, the local residential program will move toward the enrollment of teenage girls only in order to better serve the pool of well-qualified female applicants. The current budget, which is primarily allocated to student services and running the ABC House at 134 Main St., is $42,000. The program has had 65 graduates in its 16 years and nearly all have gone to four-year colleges. About 2/3 have earned degrees in varied fields including medicine, business, social work and education. One former student, Tony Pace, now married to the former Anita Pamer, also an Andover ABC graduate, is assistant director of admissions at Trinity College and they are themselves resident directors at the ABC house in Simsbury, Conn.

ABC officers for the coming year, all Andover residents, are Roger Wiehe, president; Nancy Jones, vice president; Kathy Murphy, secretary, and Elise Caffrey, treasurer.

Cooperative School To Begin Year

Andover Cooperative Rompers will open their 1983-84 school year Monday, Sept. 19, and has announced Rachel Weiner as head teacher/director. Working with Rachel will be Marilyn Smith as teacher and MaryAnn Richards as teacher's aide.

Andover Cooperative Rompers is a cooperative, non-profit, non-sectarian nursery school, fully licensed by the State Office for Children, centrally located in Good Counsel Hall at St. Augustine's Church. Classes meet three mornings weekly from 9 a.m. to 11:20 a.m. The program is open to children from the age of 2.9 to 4.9 years.

Board members include Catherine DiFiore, administrator; Susan Wepsic, treasurer; and Jane Meeker, secretary. A general meeting for all parents and interested parties will be held Thursday, Sept. 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the classroom. A few enrollments are still available at this time.

To Lecture On 'Dangers Of Strangers'

The Mother Connection, Inc. will sponsor a lecture by Kathryn Goldner and Carol Vogel, authors of "The Dangers of Strangers," at Memorial Hall Library on Thursday, Sept. 29, at 8 p.m.

The authors will discuss their picture book that helps children to understand what a stranger is.

Goldner and Vogel will also discuss how to help children recognize and avoid dangerous situations, ways for them to recognize inappropriate actions by strangers and people they know and how to teach children to say "no" when they feel threatened by an adult or older child.

Synchronized Swim Club

Aquatic Director Marilyn Fitzgerald of the Andover-North Andover YMCA has announced the formation of a coed adult synchronized swim club.

This aquatic art form has been extremely popular on the west coast and in the mid-west for many years and will be an official Olympic event for the first time in 1984.

The local Y has put on a swim show since its opening in 1974, and has committed itself to a grand 10-year anniversary spectacle.

Aquatic leaders and synchronized swim instructors Janet Lee and Cindie Darois are recruiting additional men and women for the club.

Each session encompasses stretching, stunts, strokes and composition. The class meets each Tuesday evening at the 165 Haverhill St., Andover, pool.

Auto Show

The Derry Lions LClub 10th Annual Auto Show will be held September 25 at the Hood Junior School athletic field in Derry, N.H., at 10 a.m. The auto show is one of the major fund-raising projects sponsored by the Derry Lions Club and helps support the charita-

Three Attend ROTC Camp At Ft. Bragg

Three area students received practical work in military leadership at the U.S. Army ROTC advanced camp, Fort Bragg, N.C.

Attending were Cadet Kevin A. O'Meara, Cadet Christine A. Saalfrank, both of Andover and Cadet Gene A. Northam of North Andover.

O'Meara, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. O'Meara of 1 Marie Drive, Andover, is a student at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y.

Saalfrank, daughter of George H. Saalfrank, 10 Enfield Drive, Andover, is a student at Fitchburg State College and is attending ROTC at Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Worcester.

Northam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene A. Northam, 196 Waverley Road, North Andover, is a student at Nichols College, Dudley, and attends ROTC at Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

The six-week camp, attended by cadets, normally between their third and fourth year of college, includes instruction in communications, management and survival training.

Successful completion of the advanced camp and graduation from college results in a commission as a second lieutenant in either the U.S. Army, Army Reserve or National Guard for the cadet.

Completes ROTC Field Training

Kevin M. Rembis, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Rembis, Jr., 12 Barco Lane, North Andover, completed a U.S. Air Force ROTC field training encampment at Plattsburgh Air Force Base, N.Y.

Field training, attended by cadets normally between their second and third year of college, gives an opportunity to evaluate each student's potential as an officer, according to an Air Force spokesman.

The summer's curriculum consists of orientations on jet aircraft, career opportunities, human relations education and equal opportunity training. Physical fitness and survival training is also emphasized.

The field training is four weeks, but cadets in the two-year ROTC program receive an additional two weeks of instruction in the development of air power and the contemporary Air Force.

Rembis is a student at Norwich University, Northfield, VT.

Awarded Medal By Air Force

Tech. Sgt. Timothy M. Devlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Devlin, 17 Webster St., Andover, has been decorated with the second award of the Air Force Commendation Medal at Kunsan Air Force Base, South Korea.

The Air Force Commendation Medal is awarded to individuals who demonstrate outstanding achievement or meritorious service in the performance of their duties on behalf of the Air Force.

Devlin, a ground support equipment technician with the 8th Equipment Maintenance Squadron, is a 1973 graduate of Andover High School.

Arrives At Kirtland AFB

Staff Sgt. Frederick J. Pepe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick N. Pepe, 115 Sutton Hill Road, North Andover, arrived for duty at Kirtland Air Force Base, N.M.

Pepe, a ground radio communications technician with the 1960th Communications Squadron, was previously assigned at Incirlik Air Base, Turkey.

He is a 1974 graduate of Tenney High School, Methuen.

cruiting District, Boston, has established three information nights: Tuesday, Sept. 27, at the Navy & Marine Reserve Center, Lawrence; Thursday, Sept. 29, at the College of the Holy Cross, Worcester; and Tuesday, Oct. 4, at the Naval Air Station, South Weymouth. The Big Splash

Kevin Wreghitt of 5 Mayflower Drive, Andover, who has cerebral palsy, serves during the summer months as public relations director for a summer camp for handicapped and non-handicapped. When he was asked to go off the diving board, he was at first hesitant, then took the plunge as shown in top two photos, then gave a victory salute, in lower photo. The effort was for a local newspaper in the Goshen area, but Kevin offered the experience to the TOWNSMAN as well in the story below.

Equal To A Gold Medal Dive

By Kevin Wreghitt

There is a camp in Goshen, Mass., called Camp E.C.H.O. (Environmental Camp for Handicapped and Others). It's integrated between handicapped and non-handicapped youngsters. Each handicapped youngster takes a non-handicapped buddy.

It was started in 1980 by a Northeastern recreational professor. He uses his students as counsellors. They get credit for this. They go everywhere, amusement parks, discoing, alpine slide riding, you name it, they do it.

One of the highlights of the year was a dive by a 14-year-old veteran camper who is the public relations director for the camp. He has a phobia of water. The local newspaper wanted pictures of one of the campers diving off the diving board at the public pool where they swim.

They picked Kevin Wreghitt, veteran camper from Andover. It took him 20 minutes to make up his mind. He decided to do it with encouragement from his friends. He did it with Timothy Trafford, a friend of Kevin's. Kevin has CP. He went up with Tim and Timothy Hennessey, a non-student counsellor, waiting at the bottom ready to catch him with another counsellor.

Kevin was scared, nervous and worried. (SPLASH!) Kevin dove off successfully. The counsellors caught him. Tim went in after him to help the other counsellors. The camp teaches trust to the campers. Another highlight was a group who climbed Mt. Savoy. That took a lot of trust. You can see it's a good camp for that kind of thing.

GI Bill Reminder

A veteran planning to enroll in or return to school this fall under the GI Bill should check the following list to help VA education benefits come regularly.

Double-check course to be certain they count toward your educational objective.

Register early. VA and schools need time to process registrations so that GI Bill checks can be started promptly.

File for GI Bill benefits as early as possible.

Notify both the VA and the School promptly to avoid an overpayment of benefits if course load has to be reduced or education interrupted.

Make sure the VA has certified copies of marriage and birth certificates for dependents so you will be properly paid for them.

Notify the VA promptly of any change of address.

Submit transcripts to the college admissions and records office immediately after application is made to speed up the school's certification to the Veterans Administration.

Eligible veterans have ten years from their date of last discharge (but not later than December 31, 1989) to take advantage of the many programs available in the GI Bill.

Veterans needing more information about the GIB or their eligibility for it should contact the Boston VA regional office or visit the John F.

Kennedy Building or a service officer from one of the national veterans organizations.

Rabbits are rarely found deep in forests. They prefer places where bushes or clumps of tall grass are available for hiding.

McNemar Welcomes New Students At Academy

As Phillips Academy opened for its 206th year this week, Headmaster Donald W. McNemar personally welcomed each of the 430 new students, 69 of them new day students from local schools, and set his priorities for the new academic year.

Founded in 1778, the academy has completed its first decade of coeducation and McNemar said the school will engage in both analysis and celebration of its first decade of coeducation during the coming year. Ten years after the merger with Abbot Academy, girls comprise 41 percent of the student body of 1,212 students who come from every region of the United States and more than a score of foreign countries.

Headmaster McNemar told his returning faculty and 19 new teachers and 13 new Teaching Fellows that the academy's first commitment is to excellence as a learning community—by maintaining high quality faculty teaching in the classroom and the crucial role of the house counselor as a teacher outside the classroom.

The academy is committed to a pluralistic community, said its headmaster, and this year brings a gratifying increase in minority enrollment as a result of strong recruiting efforts, but McNemar said the academy's commitment is not just to numbers, but to fostering mutual respect and sharing of students' diverse cultural backgrounds.

In his vision, the academy has the responsibility to engage students with the issues of the world beyond the Andover campus. Last year, in a collective approach, McNemar initiated the Headmaster's Symposium in winter term with lectures and films open to the public as well as the student body. The first Headmaster's Symposium focused students' attention on the issues of nuclear disarmament. This year the topic will be Race in America, bringing distinguished speakers to the Andover community.

Phillips Academy is committed to maintain a national leadership role in secondary education, said McNemar. The PA faculty's curricular programs in English competence, language learning and visual studies (art) for all students are known as national models. Outreach programs such as (MS)' in math and science, the Andover-Dartmouth Teachers Institute and Visual Studies Institutes bring public school students and teachers to the campus for intensive study and teacher training, and the Andover Summer Session, under which many of these programs flourish, offers intensive academic courses for some 800 other students from schools all over the nation and abroad. Phillips Academy's national leadership role will continue, McNemar said.

Finally, he stressed the need for service to others, to live up to the motto that Paul Revere engraved on Phillips Academy's school seal more than 200 years ago, "Non Sibi," "not for self."

The local PA matriculants who begin their new classes are joined by nine Kemper Scholars from France, Italy, Spain and West Germany, who are enjoying the hospitality of local residents. Kemper Scholars spend their first term living with local day students and PA faculty families to learn about American town and family life, then move to a PA dormitory after Christmas vacation.

Understanding Special Needs Child Will Be Workshop Topic

"Parents and Educators as Partners: Understanding the Parent's Role in the Education of the Special Needs Child," a series of four workshops to be presented under the sponsorship of the 766 Andover Parent Advisory Council will begin Thursday, Oct. 13, at 7 p.m. in the meeting room at Christ Church, 25 Central St., Andover.

The workshops' goals are to aid parents in discovering their role in the special education of their children, to develop effective methods for parent participation in this education and to enable parents to assist the public schools in fulfilling their obligation to provide an appropriate education for all children.

The first two workshops will be conducted by the Federation for Children with Special Needs, a coalition of parents' groups representing children with a variety of disabilities, on October 13 and 20.

The federal and state laws and methods for parents to analyze their child's strengths and weaknesses will be the subject matter for the first workshop. The second workshop will deal with psychological and educational testing and the parent's role in the IEP (individual educational plan).

The Federation for Children with Special Needs is unique among child advocacy, information and referral agencies in that staff members are all parents of children with special needs. It is funded through the U.S. Office of Education.

Additional workshops will be held in March when educational plans for the next academic year are being developed. Each workshop will conclude with a half hour question and answer period.

The 766 Andover Parent Advisory Council is a group of Andover parents whose children are receiving services under the Massachusetts Special Education Law, Chapter 766.

These workshops are offered to the public free of charge. To register, contact Pat Pakos or Alice Flynn. Course materials will be distributed.

Aggressive Program Planned To Prevent Lice Problem

The Andover Health Department, in conjunction with Andover Public School nurses, announced an aggressive health education and physical inspection program designed to prevent and control head lice infestation (pediculosis). The action follows the occurrence of multiple cases in some elementary schools last year.

Everett Penney, director of public health for the town, indicated that this year's program will focus on the two objectives which can most effectively control the spread of head lice. "Prevention through parent education and early detection of isolated cases are the most effective tools we have available to combat this problem," Penney said.

Head lice can happen to anyone. It is not a sign of having poor health habits or being dirty. The most important fact to remember is that the problem should be quickly treated because delays will only help spread the infestation throughout a family and community. Listed below are instructions for controlling a lice problem in the home.

Head lice are hard to see, but signs to look for are: A family member persistently scratching the head or back of the neck, white specks in the hair (white eggs can be mistaken for dandruff). Dandruff is removed easily from the hair or scalp, however, nits (eggs) are glued to the hairshaft and are very difficult to remove.

If lice infestation is confirmed, call or visit your physician who will prescribe an effective shampoo lice treatment or purchase an effective over-the-counter lice shampoo. A fine-toothed comb is often needed to remove the dead nits. Lice and their nits can survive (for a time) off the body. Even though your family may have been successfully treated, immediate re-infestation is possible or a fresh infestation of other family members may occur.

Treating the environment is done by cleaning all articles that might have lice or nits. Clothes, towels and bed linens should be washed in hot water and detergent or dry cleaned. Spray Lice Control insecticide for inanimate objects on bedding and other objects where lice and their eggs are known to linger. Spraying Lice control insecticide helps break the infestation re-infestation cycle. It is available at your local pharmacy.

Everett F. Penney
Health Director

To keep lice from coming back, instruct your child not to borrow personal items, such as combs, brushes and similar items, by washing with lice shampoos. If one member of your family has head lice, you should inspect all family members every other day for at least two weeks.

Barbara Whiteside, R.N., head nurse for the Andover School System, indicated that "all students in Grades K-6 will be screened for pediculosis within the first two weeks of school. We will work vigorously with the health department to insure that isolated cases are controlled early on and all students sent home with head lice will be examined prior to re-admission to school."

Introducing the education account that puts college within reach of your child.

The experience of watching your child grow is wonderful. What isn't so wonderful is watching the costs of higher education grow, too. That's where the BayBanks Education Account can help.

Less taxing because you pay less tax.

DISCERNIBLE GROWTH
MEASURED OVER 18 YEARS

Assumes a 10% annual interest rate compounded annually.

Years After Opening Account

A: $50,000 accumulation at child's tax rate
B: $20,000 accumulation at parent's 10% tax rate
C: $30,000 accumulation at parent's 10% tax rate
D: $30,000 accumulation at parent's 50% tax rate

The BayBanks Education Account is designed so the interest earned on the money you give your child over the years is taxed at your child's rate, which may be substantially lower than your own. With a yearly investment of $1,000, the chart shows you just how significant the difference can be. Further, you can give each of your children up to $10,000 each year, free of Federal gift taxes.

In addition, you can choose from a variety of time deposits to best meet your budget and goals. Plus, we'll help make it easy to

Celtic Artists To Exhibit At Annual Irish Festival

A representative exhibition of modern artists working in a Celtic vein will be held at the Hibernian Hall, 9 Appleton St., Lawrence, as part of the Second Annual Merrimack Valley Irish Festival, September 17 and 18. The artists are members and associates of the Institute of Celtic Studies East, a non-profit New Hampshire organization devoted to promotion of traditional Celtic culture in all its facets.

The work of these artists continues and builds upon the foundation laid by such masterpieces as the eighth century AD Irish Gospel Book, the Book of Kells. Celtic art was an abstract art of elaborate mazes, spirals and interlace. The Celtic peoples dominated Europe before the time of Christ. Today, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Isle of Man, Cornwall, Brittany, Galicia and Asturias in Spain and the Furlani of Yugoslavia are Celtic nations. Celtic language, customs, music and art were preserved in these lands despite constant warfare with neighboring cultures bent on destroying Celtic civilizations.

Featured are the works of Arthur W. Ketchen of Gallowglass Studio, Nashua, N.H., president of the Institute of Celtic Studies East, represented by his calligraphy, woodcut prints and painting; Deirdre McCullough Grunwald of Maynard with paintings, prints and drawing; Patrick Vail of Concord with illustrations and drawings; Patricia Osten of Pepperell with drawings and needlepoint designs; Benjamin Donnelly of Pepperell with calligraphy and illustrations; Andrew Davis of Pepperell with drawings and illustrations; Linda Albanese Angfusa of Amherst, N.H., with calligraphy and miniature paintings; Kenneth Ruffner, founder of the group's parent organization, Institute of Celtic Studies, Oakland, CA., with illustrations; Ian Ban of Los Angeles, CA., with drawings and illustrations.

Other possible entrants include sculptor Eadmonn Ua Cuinn of Pennsylvania, photographer Margaret McCarthy of New York, illustrator Judy Townsend of Vermont, applique designer Connie Lebel of Petersborough, N.H., clothing designer Ralph Rossi III, also of Petersborough, silversmith Margaret McWade of Groton, clothing designer Honor Horne Jurek of Lyndeborough, N.H. and silversmiths William Butler and Steven Noyes of Burlington, VT.

Examples of illustrations done by the artists range from inlay designs on musical instruments to greeting cards.

Joining these artists will be Sharon Kennedy, a "shanachie" or Irish story teller with tales old and new for the children, and films depicting life in Ireland, provided by the Consulate General of Ireland's office in Boston, will run continuously.

CHILDREN AND WILLS

An important yet commonly overlooked responsibility of parenthood is the protection of children upon a parent's death. Many parents of young children put off preparing wills because they do not understand the importance or simplicity of the process. We offer a variety of moderately priced wills and other estate planning options designed to reflect the wishes of parents. Contact John S. Wessler.

SEPTEMBER 15, 1983

Soaring Beginning

Sunday School students at Andover Baptist Church celebrated their first day of classes Sunday by releasing balloons carrying the Word of God. The balloons carried cards with messages and youngsters are hopeful they will be returned from wherever they land. While the exercise was enthusiastically received by most, two-year-old Benjamin Roberts of Princeton Ave., at right, was quite reluctant to release his balloon, grasping firmly while the others soared aloft.

New Emphasis In Church School

September is back-to-school time. This is also true at Christ Church where a variety of educational programs are getting underway. On Sunday, Sept. 18, the church school program will begin under the direction of the Rev. Marjean Bailey, associate rector. Curriculum based upon a story-telling technique will be used. Throughout the year the church school, from four-year-olds through 12th graders, will look at bits of biblical, sacramental and historical heritage in depth, in blocks of sessions lasting six or seven weeks. This fall will begin with a block on the patriarch Joseph, the story of whose life is found in the last chapters of the Old Testament Book of Genesis. There is much to be learned from Joseph besides the fact that he was given an amazing, if not really technicolor, coat from his father. Joseph is able to help his brothers and make a family reconciliation possible in a situation that all would have certainly said was impossible.

In each session an effort will be made to identify and share the life stories of the students that are related to Joseph's story. In this way connections can be made between "our" story and the "Biblical" story. Students and teachers together will retell these stories with an imaginative story of their own using art, music, drama and poetry.

Children who have not already registered will be able to do so Sunday, Sept. 18, after the 9 a.m. service. There will be a variety of educational offerings for adults between the 9 a.m. and 11:15 a.m. services, ranging from open forms on current topics to small groups discussing the morning sermon.

On Monday nights, under the leadership of Barbara Platt Hendren, a lay training course will continue. This course comes from the University of the South and is basically a Bible study course to pursue a more intense study of the New and Old Testaments. There are a few openings in this course. Inquiries can be made by calling Christ Church

Education Director Named

The board of directors of the Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover named Mrs. Robert (Cynthia) Genier as their director of religious education.

A resident of Andover, Genier earned her B.S. in Education at Eastern Connecticut State University in Williamantic, Conn., in 1964. She minored in psychology.

From 1965 through 1970 she taught third grade in the Wakefield public school system. From 1980 until 1983 Genier acted as administrator and registrar for Andover School of Montessori. She has been an active member of the Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover for many years as a teacher and chairperson of the religious education committee.

Under her supervision, teacher recruitment and curriculum materials have been organized for a church year whose theme is "Growing Religiously." Preschool youngsters will be cared for by Marie DeMember and Marion Perregaux. First and second grades will study "The Adventures of God's Folks," led by Betsy Black and Gail Ens Dorf. Third and fourth graders will use a "Stepping Stone Year" under the guidance of Larry LaFranchi. Debbie Zahka and Audrey Bidell. "Church Across the Street," a program for fifth and sixth grade children, will be led by Merle Young. The junior high youngsters will review Unitarian Universalist principles before beginning a study of world religions to be taught by Joyce Stier.

The Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover holds Sunday morning worship services and religious education classes at 10:30 a.m. in the November Club, 6 Locke St., downtown Andover. A fellowship coffee is held at the close of each Sunday program, enabling visitors and newcomers to meet the minister and other members of the congregation.

Classes To Begin At Vale Church

Classes and groups for all ages will begin this Sunday at the Ballard Vale United Church, 23 Clark Road, Andover. The adult class will meet at 9:30 a.m. and will begin a new series, "Confronting Death." The overall biblical emphasis for the children's classes is "We Are God's People." Classes for nursery, kindergarten through sixth grade will meet at 10:30 a.m. with elementary-aged children at worship with their families until dismissed for classes. Junior high and senior high youth will meet on Sunday evenings for study and fellowship. Junior high youth will use a new elective study, "The Life Box," with its themes of "You Gotta Have Friends" and "Alcohol, Drugs, Tobacco and Your Life." This Sunday the senior highs (grades 9-12) will meet at 6 p.m. for a picnic and planning session and the junior highs will meet at 7 p.m. All classes and groups will use United Methodist Curriculum. New children and youth may be registered by calling the church office or on Sunday morning.

The church worships at 10:30 a.m. This Sunday's preaching theme is "Lost and Found."

Tibet is often called the "Roof of the World" because its snow covered mountains and wind-swept plateaus are the world's highest.

High School Students Will Be Disciplined In Work Program

Andover High School administrators will try a new approach to disciplining some problem students this year. Instead of facing a three-day suspension, students will instead find themselves spending a Saturday morning at school, working around the school property.

The School Committee last week voted unanimously to try the administration's proposed Saturday Work Alternative Program (SWAP) for at least half the academic year. Committeeman Michael Giammusso asked for an evaluation at mid-year; however, high school principal Mary Jennings indicated that the program will probably not get underway until January.

School superintendent Kenneth Seifert said the administration believes the traditional three-day suspension from school "really doesn't work very well" in discouraging further offenses such as vandalism to school property. The work program offers "another alternative" to suspension for those students who choose that option, he said.

The idea is not a new one, the superintendent said, explaining that it has been "operating quite successfully" in North Andover.

Under the SWAP program, a student will report to a school staffer trained in counseling at 7:45 on Saturday morning, and spend most of the morning cleaning up litter; cleaning desks, lockers or lavatories; painting (in areas that would not require staging); sweeping parking lots; cleaning windows; or setting up for or cleaning up after special events held in the school auditorium, cafeteria, gym or playing fields.

The morning will end with a half-hour counseling session from 11:30 to noon.

A student who fails to report for a Saturday work session will be suspended as usual — or, if school officials are convinced of "extenuating circumstances," the student will be given one more chance at the Saturday program.

Jennings told the committee the SWAP program is not be appropriate for every student — it will not be used for those with academic problems, for example — and will not be used more than once for each student. (One Saturday morning equals one three-day suspension.)

The program is geared to "students who can learn from their mistakes and move on," the principal said. The administration will "move into other evaluations for those with more serious problems," she added.

According to Seifert, the program will cost $2,000 for 38 weeks of Saturday supervision by trained personnel who have agreed to take on the task. Jennings said school officials are working on a grant proposal and hope to obtain funding from the Department of Justice; it is also possible that with the value of the work the students will perform, the program will pay for itself, she noted.

Selectmen Chairman Gerald Silverman, liaison to the school committee and principal of Georgetown High School, said Georgetown has adopted a work program this year because suspensions are sometimes seen as "a vacation" for offending students. The work program will make students compensate for offenses on their own time, not school time.

"The major thing is to keep that kid in school," Silverman said.

Committee member Susan Poore said she would like to look into the idea further, and gather information from communities besides North Andover that may be using a work program. "It bothers me to see us spending money in this way," she said — adding that discipline should remain "primarily the parents' responsibility."

But Giammusso said it would be "worth the effort to at least get this going as a trial program," and moved to accept the program for the coming academic year. Committeeman Robert Smith, who said he has seen such a program work "very well," seconded the motion.

The program was approved on a five-zero vote.

Diabetes Lecture

An explanation of humulin, the new human insulin, will be presented at Lawrence General Hospital's first fall diabetic lecture Wednesday, Sept. 21, at 7 p.m. in the hospital's auditorium.

The lecture series is free and open to the public.

The film, "Focus on Feelings," discussing emotions and how one deals with feelings as they relate to having diabetes also will be shown.

Refreshments will be available.

Remarriage And The Stepfamily

Leigh Gray, a family therapist at Riverside Family Counseling will give a free lecture on life in stepfamilies Monday, Sept. 26, at the Riverside Family Institute, 259 Walnut St., Room 14, Newtonville. Gray will discuss the three stages that stepfamilies typically experience as they grow toward mutual affection and support. These stages are acceptance, in which new family members are gradually accepted as kin; authority, a stage in which the remarried couple asserts itself as the primary source of authority within the new family; and affection, when family members relax and enjoy each other.

No pre-registration is necessary. For more information, call the institute.

Selectmen Disturbed Over Liquor Violations At Two Locations

By Sue Aucella Deacon

While noting that there was a "significant difference" between the two cases, the selectmen this week voted to send letters of warning to two local establishments charged with liquor license violations.

The board will send letters of warning to Justin's Restaurant for an alleged sale of liquor to a minor, and to the New Indian Ridge Country Club for the alleged sale of liquor after hours.

After brief public hearings at Town Hall Monday night, the selectmen found both the restaurant and the country club guilty of the alleged violations, a first offense for both. According to their policy, the selectmen send a letter of warning for a first offense, and move to license suspension on a second offense.

But at the close of the second hearing, Selectman William Dalton said there was "a significant difference" between the cases, and that the board may have adhered too strictly to its policy. He suggested that the policy should be used as a guideline only.

Although board members indicated that they agreed the cases were very different, and Norma Gammon said that perhaps the policy should be changed, the board did not follow up on Dalton's comments.

During the first hearing on the alleged violation at Justin's, Andover Police Detective Dave Grant said he observed four "young ladies" drinking at a table at the Park Street restaurant at approximately 9:40 p.m. Aug. 5.

He said he had doubts about the age of one of those customers, and asked the waitress to check identification at the table again. Grant said he then checked the customer himself, and she produced a driver's license that showed she was 18.

The detective commented that both the waitress and manager at Justin's that evening were "very cooperative."

Restaurant owner Brian Jaymes told the board, "I think we were wrong in this particular case."

However, he explained that when the four women entered the bar, the 18-year-old went directly to the ladies room, and the waitress "didn't even know she was in the restaurant." Her friends ordered a draught beer for her and the under-age customer returned to the table about 15 minutes later, he said.

"It wasn't a flagrant thing on our part," Jaymes said, adding that his staff cards "everyone," and that it was his first violation as a license-holder for nine years in Andover.

The board voted unanimously to send a letter of warning to Justin's.

During the second public hearing, Officer Brian Patullo said that as he was checking doors on the late-night shift at 2:34 a.m. Aug. 13, he found the doors open at Indian Ridge Country Club. Inside he observed people at the bar with fresh drinks on the bar, he said, and the bartender behind the bar.

Twelve Andover Students Semifinalists

Kimberly J. Kupa

Two Andover High School seniors and ten Andover residents attending Phillips Academy have been honored for academic excellence by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, which has named the students National Merit Scholarship Semifinalists.

The Andover students are among 15,000 students from across the country honored as Semifinalists. They are now eligible to compete for about 5,300 Merit Scholarships, worth more than $18 million, to be awarded next spring.

From Andover High School, the Semifinalists are Kimberly J. Kupa and Kathryn L. Schwarz. From Phillips Academy, they are Joseph B. Bardetti, Scott P. Bertetti, Barbara A. Cutter, Peter Y. Lee, Thomas B.T. Lord, Kathryn L. Mulvey, Catherine G. Symchych, Jeffrey S. Vogel, Timothy Wright and Robert A. Yelle.

Andover High School senior Kimberly Kupa is the daughter of Edward and Judith Kupa of 4 Joseph St. Originally from Rhode Island, the Kupa family has lived in Andover for the past two years. Kim is a member of the National Honor Society, and this year will serve on the staff of The Rock, Andover High's school newspaper. She also enjoys tennis. During her junior year, she was awarded the Dartmouth Book Award for academic achievement and citizenship.

After taking a summer journalism course at Phillips Academy, Kim is interested in journalism as a possible career. She has not decided where she would like to attend college next year, but is currently considering five schools. She plans to major in English.

Andover High senior Kathryn Schwarz is the daughter of William and Susan Schwarz of 35 Lovejoy Road. She has attended Sanborn School and West Junior High School. Kathryn participates in the school concert band, marching band and jazz band, and occasionally in the orchestra band which plays at drama productions. She was a member of her ninth-grade track team, and enjoys skiing.

Kathryn, who works after school at Memorial Hall Library, hopes to attend Duke University next year. She plans to make her career in marine biology.

The Phillips Academy Semifinalists:

Indian Ridge Streets May Finally Be Completed

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Work that has been left unfinished since 1979 on six streets in the Indian Ridge subdivision may finally be completed within the next month, making the streets eligible for acceptance as public streets at spring town meeting.

And while that work is being done, Rollins Cablevision will install underground cable to bring cable service to residents of the street, under the terms of an agreement town officials are currently negotiating with Rollins and Vazza Associates of Braintree, developers of the subdivision.

During a public hearing before the Planning Board Tuesday night, Community Development and Planning Director Jonathan Gilmore said he hoped to have that agreement in writing by the end of next week. He estimated that it would take about three weeks to complete the improvements needed on the streets, including laying the underground cable.

After hearing comments from Indian Ridge residents, Planning Board Chairman Jerry Greer adjourned the hearing for two weeks. If an agreement is reached, he explained, the purpose of the public hearing—to call in Vazza's performance bonds—would become moot.

The chairman added that if no agreement has been reached in two weeks, he would be "favorably disposed" to call the bonds, so that the town can have the improvements completed.

The Indian Ridge subdivision, approved in 1971, was completed in 1979, Gilmore said, but six of its streets remain private streets, not accepted as public ways by the Stop!

The new traffic lights in front of the public safety center are for the safe entrance onto North Main Street by emergency vehicles responding to a call. Probably because of the newness of the safety devices, many motorists have been ignoring the red lights when they are activated at the sounding of an alarm or request for the ambulance. Double lights face both directions of North Main Street and are blinking yellow for caution until activated to red to halt traffic as soon as an emergency response is requested at the public safety center switchboard.

Some Observations

As the summer season draws to a close, despite the temperature having indicated otherwise earlier this week, it seems proper to get back to the norms of Andover life and offer some observations for public perusal, such as:

The Arts Group

There has been considerable concern about the activities of the Andover Endowment For The Arts, Inc., a group of Andover residents whose interest is in making the new performing arts center at the high school a facility to be enjoyed by those who supported it--the taxpayers.

This past summer, selectmen became concerned about the activity of that group in view of their proposed attempts to secure a performance by the Boston Ballet and possibly a presentation of 'The Nutcracker' during the holiday season.

While it was explained at the time that the arts group is simply a conduit through which some of these performing companies could be brought to Andover, the board wanted it to be known that the corporation was not managing the new center and emphasized that it was a town-owned facility.

While it is assumed that the membership never dreamed of maintaining such control over the facility and understood their duties, the town manager assured the selectmen that maintenance, budgeting and other responsibilities inherent in accepting the center, remained within the confines of municipal administration.

No sooner had that assurance been given, then the school committee climbed aboard the bandwagon seeking assurances that this newest building about to enter their feifdom was indeed, within their control.

This, of course, has been carried out within the past week, with various administrative edicts indicating that indeed the building is for school functions and an educational facility.

With all of this now cast in stone, quite possibly the Andover Endowment For The Arts can proceed with trying to obtain some of the civic and cultural activities for which it has lofty aspirations.

The makeup of the committee, with its knowledge of the community and the activities for which the auditorium was initially created, certainly would not be interfering with any town or school activities. It would be a startling revelation if they were not to consider the town-school calendar in planning any event.

It would seem then, that the school committee can be comforted in the knowledge that the Boston Symphony will not bump the Andover High musical and the town administration relieved that a Rodney Dangerfield performance won't cancel the annual town meeting.

And, with that in mind, the endowment group can proceed with providing the townspeople with the opportunity to attend and participate in cultural events in a magnificent facility they produced through their own funding.

Night Games

Selectmen this week acceded to a popular request of looking into the possibility of providing lights at the high school stadium for night football next year.

The idea, of course, has some merit.

The time has long since passed when a Saturday afternoon high school football game has priority except for those with personal interest. The competition for recreational time is fierce, particularly on a fall afternoon.

Friday night games, or even Saturday night, would offer more appeal, according to supporters of the lights proposal.

But, before the town goes to the expense of erecting lights at the football field for what would amount to minimal usage, probably four or five games every fall, wouldn't it seem expeditious to look into some sort of arrangement with the Greater Lawrence Technical School for use of that facility?

Lights are already installed there. The school is part of the same conference in which Andover High participates.

Lowell also has an illuminated field and plays Friday night games.

Since there are several teams in the Merrimack Valley Conference, there is the possibility that using the two fields which have lights on Friday and Saturday nights, and establishing a schedule, the teams would profit and the towns and cities involved save the expense of providing illumination which would be minimally utilized. There is a committee being formed to look into the night games matter. It is anticipated they would take such a proposal into consideration.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

Scurry down to The Haven this afternoon to attend the regular monthly meeting of The Haven Associates. You'll be glad you did.

And, although registration for new classes began yesterday, while you're down there, there is still time to register for most of the classes. They don't usually fill that quickly. Refer to your newsletter for the details of the individual classes. You are bound to find something special to interest you.

There are only 18 seats left for the September 21 matinee performance of the that great classic, Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess," at the Wang Center. You're going to love it. Orchestra seats and transportation come to just $23, a real bargain, but get down to the center and get your tickets now.

The Fall Foliage trip is booked solid, but the staff is taking names of those who would like to go and, if there is sufficient response, will arrange a second bus. But, again, you have to let them know.

The next meeting of the Andover Council on Aging will be September 20 at 9:30 a.m. As are all town board meetings, the council meeting is open to the public and if you have any helpful suggestions or comments the council is eager to hear them.

Register for free butter and cheese by September 20 at the center. Distribution will take place the 27th.

SCHOOL LUNCH MENU

MONDAY: Scrambled hamburger w/ gravy, whipped potatoes, sliced carrots, bread and butter, fruit cup, milk.

TUESDAY: Sliced cheese pizza, tossed chef's salad, chilled peaches, milk.

WEDNESDAY: Pork chopet w/ brown sauce, mashed potatoes, green beans, bread and butter, chocolate brownie, milk.

THURSDAY: Baked macaroni w/ meat-sauce, buttered vegetable, bread and butter, jello w/ topping, milk.

FRIDAY: Cup of tomato soup, grilled cheese sandwich, potato chips, assorted desserts, milk.

Senior Citizen

MONDAY: Scrambled hamburger w/ gravy, mashed potatoes, sliced carrots, bread and butter, dessert, beverage.

TUESDAY: Stuffed bell pepper w/ tomato sauce, mashed potatoes, buttered vegetable, bread and butter, dessert, beverage.

WEDNESDAY: Port chopet w/ brown sauce, mashed potatoes, green beans, bread and butters, dessert, beverage.

THURSDAY: Baked macaroni w/ meat-sauce, buttered vegetable, bread and butter, dessert, beverage.

FRIDAY: Baked fish portion, whipped potatoes, buttered vegetable, bread and butter, dessert, beverage.

Response to the request for interest in any particular theater offering has been most disappointing. May we again request that if you are interested in attending matinee performances of any of the productions listed in the latest newsletter, you so inform the staff at The Haven. You are not asked to make a commitment at this time, merely to indicate a possible interest in order to facilitate planning.

The September 20 session of the mini-clinic will be held at Andover Commons. As usual, appointments must be made through the Andover Health Department (475-720). The service is free and is staffed by Andover's public health nurses, knowledgeable and caring women, who are happy to listen to your problems as well as conduct certain routine tests. They are able to refer you to others if special care is needed.

Japanese Embroidery

A 10-week course in Japanese Bunka Embroidery is being held at the Methuen Senior Center in the Old Town Hall Building on Broadway Street on Thursdays from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Friday Film Series

Memorial Hall Library's popular Friday Film Series will resume September 23 at 7:30 p.m. with "Run Wild, Run Free." Billed as Family Night at the Movies, the offerings this fall include such well-known favorites as "The Mouse that Roared," "The Hobbit," "Modern Times" and "Popeye." A flier listing the entire schedule for the eight-week series is available for patrons in the main reading room. All showings are free and provided as a community service. Children seven years and older are welcome when accompanied by an adult. These films, however, are not suitable for pre-school children.

Great Books Discussion Group

The Great Books Discussion Group has been meeting regularly at Memorial Hall Library for a number of years. The fall session will reconvene on Tuesday, Sept. 27, at 7:30 p.m. to discuss "The Declaration of Independence," the first reading in the Great Books Foundation Series A. The group is open to all persons interested in reading and discussing great literature and will meet regularly the second and fourth Tuesday of the month through December 13. A flier providing the complete schedule is available in the main reading room or you may contact Dorothy Sherrerd, community services librarian.

48 YEARS OF SERVICE TO THE MERRIMACK VALLEY

Enrollment Decline Slowing As New Homes Continue To Rise

As families move into the new homes that continue to spring up around Andover, the decline in enrollments in the town's schools may be slowing down, school administrators told the School Committee last Tuesday night.

As of last week it was too soon to tell what this year's enrollments will be, Assistant Superintendent Charles Mitsakos told the committee: The numbers would be clearer after this Monday's first day of school. But he offered a sneak preview of the enrollment picture, concluding that "it seems there may be a leveling off of the enrollment decline we have been dealing with for the last several years."

Mitsakos said it appears that enrollments in math classes at Doherty Junior High School will be "very high," and more staffing might be needed in that department. There are no apparent problems at West Junior High and the high school, he added.

At the elementary schools, enrollments have not declined as much as administrators had anticipated. At Sanborn, for example, 40 fewer students than last year were expected to enroll; instead there are only 20 fewer. "The trend would indicate that we will not have the declining enrollments we have had in other years," Mitsakos said.

The assistant superintendent noted that one family has done more than its share to help boost enrollments: A set of triplets was scheduled to start first grade at West Elementary School this week.

Liquor

The officer said he told the bartender and the manager to clear the bar, because drinks are not supposed to be served after 1 a.m. The manager told him they were "just finishing," Patullo said.

Country club manager John Vinios told the board a function honoring Boston Bruins coach Gerry Cheevers had been held that evening, and several out-of-town guests were lingering in the hall. He said the manager told him no drinks were served after 1 a.m.

Even though the door was left open, "We were not physically selling liquor," Vinios said. "People were just reminiscing — we weren't pounding the register selling liquor."

Chairman Gerald Silverman said the issue was not whether people were still in the hall, but whether alcohol was being consumed after 1 a.m. He said he was "concerned" by the manager's attitude and expected more "cooperation" from the club. He added that the police officer was there to benefit the club by checking the doors.

Patullo commented that "this is the same attitude" he encountered on the night of the alleged violation. "Those drinks were full, and they were filled with ice — those were fresh drinks," the officer said. "They were trying to snowball me, and that's where this thing started."

Although the board voted unanimously to send a letter of warning to the country club, Donn Byrne said he was voting "with reluctance."

Although the first trains were not built till the 1800's, tracks were laid in the 1500's. They helped horses draw heavier loads than they could on ordinary roads.

Arts And The Town Seem In Harmony

All is well between the school department and Andover Endowment for the Arts, Inc., Selectman Norma Gammon assured the board of selectmen Monday night.

Last week, School Committeeman Donald Robb said he was concerned about the arts committee's role in bringing performing arts groups to Andover's new J. Everett Collins Performing Arts Center — which also happens to be Andover High School's school auditorium.

Robb said he wanted it made clear that the school committee retains jurisdiction over the arts center, and that students will have first priority for use of the center.

AHS Principal Mary Jennings told the school committee last week that the arts committee has been working with her to coordinate school schedules with outside performance schedules, and that the joint effort has been going smoothly.

Gammon, who is the selectmen's liaison to the arts committee, said this week that after hearing of Robb's comments she talked with arts committee president and former town manager Jared S.A. Clark.

"Things are going fine — all is going well," Gammon said. "There is no problem there."

Andover will celebrate the opening of the Collins center on Sunday, Sept. 25, and the selectmen this week voted to proclaim that day "Andover Bank Day" in honor of the Andover Savings Bank, which is underwriting a Boston Pops performance that will cap the day's events at the center.

The board had already proclaimed Sept. 25 J. Everett Collins Day.

Kitchen Design

David A. Clement, designer

Proper kitchen design should take its clues about physical layout from three central concepts. First, the physical limitations of the principal cook or cooks should be a major determinant in achieving an energy-saving, comfortable working environment. Second, the well-organized kitchen should be based on work centers with sufficient storage, and arranged in logical sequences. Lastly, the greatest efficiency can be attained by storing items where they are needed rather than by category. It is upon these principles that an efficient, comfortable kitchen can best be arrived at. Aesthetics fall into place once functionalism has laid the foundation.

You say you don't love everything about your kitchen? You wish it looked brighter, worked better or you're dreaming of the day you had enough money to rip it all out and do it over? Warrior Booters Have Successful Pre-Season Record

By She Livermore

Andover High's varsity soccer team wrapped up a generally successful pre-season last Friday with a 2-2-1 record.

The Warrior Booters played their first scrimmage on Wednesday, Aug. 31, against Alverine High School, Hudson, N.H., and promptly took a 2-0 lead. Alverine scored three goals in rapid succession at the beginning of the second half and Andover fought back to tie the game.

The next evening the Warriors travelled to Lexington and in a well-played scrimmage won a 3-1 victory.

In their first home scrimmage on Friday, the warriors played Lynn English, last year's Division 1 North champions. Andover's defense demonstrated their skills in this contest, holding Lynn English, who had many returning players from last year's championship team, to a 0-0 tie. It was an excellent test for the defense and Coach Dave Amundsen said he was very pleased Andover held Lynn English scoreless.

In the heat on Labor day, Andover played Wakefield and suffered its only defeat in pre-season play. Wakefield dominated the game and outpassed the Warrior Booters who were not able to contain their explosive offense. The final score was 3-1 Wakefield.

Andover completed pre-season last Friday against Saugus with a 3-0 victory. Saugus' offense was virtually non-existent and Andover was able to penetrate their defense three times in the second quarter.

"I'm pleased with what I've seen," said Coach Amundsen, "based on the relative strength of the teams and the leagues in which they compete."

Pre-season play has enabled Coach Amundsen to determine the positions of the various players as they enter the season.

The goalkeeping chores will be handled by senior Brian Sheehy with senior Walter Pitts and sophomore David Bartle assisting.

The sweeper-back will be Tri-captain Hai Dang who has done an outstanding job in pre-season play. He will be supporting defenders seniors Sean Burns and Mark Perowski and junior Nick Bates, with back-up from junior Dave Casanave and senior Steve McDowell when he returns from the sick list.

The intense play at midfield will go to Tri-captain David Keene, junior Glenn Livermore and sophomore Scott Wilkins. They will be supported by senior Pete Surrette and juniors John Drake, Jeff Kennedy and Gage Perry.

The front line will consist of Tri-captain Jim Denoncourt, senior Zack Apgar and junior Paul Hevehan. They will be backed up by sophomores Barry Tucker and Scott Wilkins.

Looking at the season ahead, Coach

Amundsen stated "Andover faces the very difficult task of once again defending its championship. The team will have to be very well prepared knowing that every team it plays will be ready, hoping to get its first win against the team in more than three years."

The season opener against cross-town rivals Greater Lawrence Technical was played yesterday and the results will appear in next week's TOWNSMAN

Andover will play its first home game on Saturday in the Eugene Lovely Stadium against Billerica, a team they have knocked out of the state tournament for the past two years. Both Greater Lawrence Technical and Billerica lost very few players to graduation so Andover faces formidable competition from players who personally remember past defeats. Saturday's game time is 10:30 a.m.

Game Schedule

Saturday, Sept. 17, Billerica at Andover, 10:30 a.m.

Tuesday, Sept. 20, Haverhill at Andover, 3:30 p.m.

Thursday, Sept. 22, Andover at Chelmsford, 3:30 p.m.

Saturday, Sept. 24, Andover at Wilmington, 10:30 a.m.

Wednesday, Sept. 28, Lowell at Andover.

Warrior Gridders Launch Season Against Lancers

By Rick Harrison

With three weeks of solid preparation behind it, the Andover High football team will launch its 1983 season this Saturday when it faces Lawrence High at the Lancers' Veterans Stadium.

The opening kickoff is scheduled for 1:30 p.m.

The Golden Warriors shouldn't lack in confidence following excellent pre-season scrimmage showings against Greater Lowell Regional, North Andover and Wellesley.

Last Saturday at Lovely Field AHS blitzed Wellesley in its final tune-up, dominating the action in every phase of the game.

Senior halfback Bob Stabile ripped off three long touchdown runs, the passing game was far superior to Wellesley's, placekicker Charlie Ziegenbein booted a 33-yard fieldgoal and was successful on every conversion, and the Andover defense held the visitors scoreless.

"We had the better of it," understated Head Coach Dick Collins. "But I don't know how strong Wellesley is. They have a new coach, the third one in three years, and it's always difficult when you put in a new system."

"Stabile is going to be a very good back for us this year," continued Collins. "And our passing game was much better than it had been against North Andover. The amazing thing is that we only threw 11 times with our regulars, and that has to be a record low for me."

Donovan (Co-capt. Bill) was superb on defense. He's a great linebacker. And the kicking game couldn't have been any better. Ziegenbein and (Mark) Nardone (punter) really look good.

"About the only thing that disturbed us was the fact we took a few more penalties than I would have liked," added Collins. "They've changed the offside rule this year and some kids are having trouble getting used to it."

"It's all part of the learning process, though. That's what these scrimmages are all about. We've looked good, but there is still work to do in terms of keeping our poise and getting everything polished."

Starting Lineups

Collins may not know until sometime tomorrow who will start at quarterback, with a battle still being waged between Ralph Dellatto (5'9", 160 lbs.) and Chris Scarpa (5'10", 160 lbs.).

Stabile (5'10", 175 lbs.) will open at left halfback, senior Pete Comeau (5'8", 155 lbs.) at right halfback and Nardone (6'1", 175 lbs.) at fullback.

Also expected to see considerable time in the backfield are senior Ian Dowe (6'3", 220 lbs.), junior John Barry (6'1", 175 lbs.), whose father played on Collins' first Andover team in 1959, and senior Eric Fitzpatrick (5'7", 170 lbs.).

Senior Mark Lahoud (5'8", 155 lbs.) will see action as the backup center, while senior Glen Markey (6', 165 lbs.) will be in reserve at an end position.

Several AHS players, perhaps as many as seven, will double up on the starting defensive team.

Gibson will be the left end, Dowe will work at left tackle, VanAken at right tackle, Markey and Barry at right end, Stabile, Nardone and Donovan at linebackers and Scarpa joins Ziegenbein in the secondary.

Sophomore Mark Polakow (5'9", 162 lbs.) has earned the starting nod at middle guard, while senior Billy Vickers (6', 165 lbs.) is the safety.

Junior Glen McAnnally (5'11", 175 lbs.) will also see time in the defensive line, Fitzpatrick and Griffin will be in reserve at linebacker and Cuddy is a backup in the secondary.

Lawrence

After putting together outstanding back-to-back seasons in 1980 and 1981, Lawrence stumbled to a poor record last fall.

However, the Lancers have many veterans in the line and the offensive backfield and should be much improved this year.

"I know they got the better of Lynn English in a scrimmage last Saturday," observed Collins. "They have an experienced quarterback and some speed in the backfield."

"Without scouting reports and films, the opening game every year is a guessing game," added Collins.

"This year's group has learned quickly. You never feel 100 percent prepared, but I think we're ready to do as many things if not more than we usually do."

Schedule

The Golden Warriors' first home game will be September 24 when perennial MVC power Tewksbury invades Lovely Field, while other home games will be against Lowell High (Oct. 1), Methuen (Oct. 15), Haverhill (Oct. 29) and Billerica

McDonald's Captures Championship

McDonald's of Andover finished the 1983 Department of Community Services Coed Softball League with an undefeated record of 16-0. Their unblemished mark included a perfect 13-0 regular season record to cop first place and a 3-0 sweep in the finals to capture the playoff championship title.

Tough defense seemed to be McDonald's trademark as they only allowed an average of four runs scored against them all year. This remained consistent in the playoffs as well. After drawing a bye in the first round, McDonald's defeated Sheraton Rolling Green in the second round which set them up to meet S.M.C. for the championship.

In game one, Andy Corey of McDonald's belted two timely home runs which powered his team to a 10-4 win. S.M.C. jumped to an early 3-0 lead, but sloppy defense and some clutch hitting by McDonald's did them in. McDonald's eased out to a 5-1 win in game two. S.M.C. had a golden chance to tie the game in the sixth, but a baserunning error cost them a run and took them out of a potential big inning.

Babe Ruth Tryouts Scheduled

The Andover Blue and Gold Babe Ruth baseball teams will hold their annual Fall tryouts on consecutive Sunday afternoons, Sept. 18 and 25, at the Doherty Junior High field.

Both sessions will run from 1 p.m. to approximately 5 p.m.

All 13-year-old candidates should report to the field at 1 p.m. both days, while all 14- and 15-year old candidates should report at 3 p.m. both days.

All youngsters between the ages of 13 and 15 years of eligible, provided they will not turn 16 prior to August 1, 1984.

All 15 positions on both teams are open, and both the Blue and Gold squads must fill vacancies left by three players who have moved out of town.

Both teams compete in the Greater Lawrence Babe Ruth League against teams from North Andover and Lawrence. There is also a strong possibility that Chelmsford and Tewksbury will join the league next summer.

Andover Gold swept both the regular season and playoff championships in 1981 and 1982, compiling a 50-6 record during that time, and this past summer Gold finished one game out of first place at 13-8 overall.

Andover Blue was 11-10 this year and battled to the championship round of the playoffs, dropping a tough 3-2 decision to North Andover.

Players from the Gold and Blue teams then joined forces on three Greater Lawrence All-Star teams. The three teams played 16 games in the Saugus and Waltham Invitational Tournaments, reaching the championship round in two divisions and the semifinals in another division.

Several of the players on the two teams participated in almost 40 games this summer.

A second set of tryouts will be held next spring and players not selected for the Babe Ruth teams will still be eligible for Senior League.

Further information may be had by contacting Rick Harrison (475-2007).

Grasso In Iron Man Triathlon

Andover High School teacher and track coach Gerry Grasso completed the Iron Man East triathlon in 13 hours, 36 minutes and 37 seconds Sept. 10 in Hyannis, beating the 14-hour goal he had set for himself.

Grasso, who is head of the Andover Striders running club, finished 73rd overall among 104 athletes who completed the three-part event. There were 134 entrants at the start of the grueling competition, modeled after Hawaii's Iron Man triathlon.

The oldest competitor at age 50, Grasso finished fifth in the Master's category and first in the Senior category.

The triathlon began with a 2.4-mile swim, which Grasso completed in 1 hour, 53 minutes, 21 seconds; a 112-mile bicycle ride — 7 hours, 20 minutes, 9 seconds; and a 26-mile marathon — four hours, 23 minutes, 7 seconds.

Another local competitor, Ed Laverly of North Andover, 32, finished 48th overall at 12 hours, 30 minutes, 11 seconds.

Winner of the triathlon was George Missailidis of Narragansett, R.I., 24, with a time of 9 hours, 47 minutes. The first woman to finish was Deborah Perry of North Easton, 25, at 11 hours, 58 minutes.

Apples Plentiful

It's apple season and the harvest of a wide variety of fresh fruits and vegetables is plentiful at local farms.

McIntosh, Cortland, Red and Golden Delicious continue as the leading Bay State apple varieties, though an excellent eating apple named Macoun (a McIntosh cousin) has taken off in popularity in recent years.

The native blueberry season is winding up, while fresh cranberries are "coloring up" and will soon be ready for harvesting.

Bunched beets and Swiss chard are excellent and plentiful at this time of year.

Native bunched beets with tops still on provide fresh beet greens, a good eating green and excellent source of vitamin A. They are prepared similar to spinach and can be cooked with only the water clinging to the leaves.

The corn is sweet in the month of September. Squashes, tomatoes and a variety of greens are plentiful and carrots, onions, potatoes and the heartier winter-type vegetables are coming into their own.

Fruits And Veggies

The "back to school" season is a good time for kids of all ages to brush up on nutrition, and one important fact to consider is that in general the most neglected of the four basic food groups is vegetables and fruits.

This week, native carrots and muskmelons are two of the current items coming to market in plentiful supply.

Bunched carrots with their tops on are truly fresh from local farms.

Fresh and homegrown this week are sweet, juicy muskmelons, sometimes called cantaloupes.

Muskmelon is generally larger than the average sized cantaloupes and usually has a coarser netting and deeper ribbing. This has been a good year for them as the hot weather has resulted in a high sugar content.

Muskmelons provide vitamins A, C and other nutrients and are relatively low in calories.

The word "fold," meaning to go bankrupt, has been traced back to 1250.

Master Plan

forces will be appointed by the manager, with the selectmen's approval.

In June, department heads prepare a report to Community Development and Planning, for distribution to the study groups, discussing their ideas for the master plan. Curran suggested that those reports be submitted to the planning department by Aug. 31; planning board Chairman Jerry Greer suggested moving that date up to July 31.

During September and October, study groups begin meeting; Greer recommended that the groups begin meeting in September, as soon after Labor Day as possible. These groups submit reports to the planning department by Nov. 30.

Curran proposed that the planners and other town officials review those reports during December and January, and present a summarized report to the town manager by Feb. 15. That report would include recommended changes to the plan and the procedures necessary to carry out those changes (town meeting action, for example, or administrative action).

But Greer said that timetable might not leave enough time to plan for town meeting, when town meeting action is required. He suggested that all recommendations be drafted by Dec. 31, and a report submitted to the manager by Jan. 15.

Finally, the consultant suggested that all revisions to the master plan be published and distributed throughout town within a month after spring town meeting in April. At that point, in May, the year-long process would begin all over again.

In addition to his recommendations for a yearly review, Curran's first draft includes a review of Andover's population and characteristics, government and structure, and its relationship to other communities in the Merrimack Valley.

The consultant reported that according to his estimates, the town's population will ultimately grow to 40,000 or 45,000. This figure matches projections dating back to 1957 and 1965, Curran noted, and through the years town officials have consistently predicted the same ultimate population. He estimated the 1983 population at 30,601; the 1980 figure was 26,370.

Curran told the board he would submit the second part of his draft report to them later this month. That six-part section will include recommendations from each of the task forces, which dealt with land use; housing, business and industrial development; public safety and health; schools and community service; transportation and communication; and capital improvement and redevelopment/reuse.

Last fall more than one million students from secondary schools across the nation entered the National Merit Scholarship competition by taking the PSAT/NMSQT examination during their junior year. The Semifinalists represent the highest scorers in each state, the top half of one percent of this year's senior class.

To become one of approximately 13,500 Finalists who will be considered for awards, Semifinalists must document high academic performance throughout high school, receive the recommendation and endorsement of their principals, confirm their qualifying test scores with a second examination, and provide information on their interests, accomplishments and goals.

Finalists will be eligible for some 1,800 nonrenewable $1,000 scholarships, to be allocated on a state representational basis; about 1,500 renewable corporate-sponsored four-year scholarships; and more than 2,000 renewable college-sponsored four-year scholarships.

town: Sioux Circle, Cheyenne Circle, Shawnee Circle, Wabanaki Way, Apache Avenue and Penacook Place. To make the streets eligible for acceptance, a number of improvements are needed — there are some "pretty substantial drainage problems" on Penacook, for instance — and legal paper-work must be completed as well.

When contacted by Andover officials, Vazza has been unwilling to discuss completing the work, the director said. The planners therefore called a public hearing as the first step in possibly calling in the developer's performance bonds to pay for the work.

After the public hearing was advertised in late August, the developer and his bank, the Arlington Trust Company, contacted the town and have been trying to negotiate an agreement, Gilmore said, with Rollins Cablevision involved as well. He said Tuesday he was "optimistic" that an agreement would be put into writing within ten days.

Vazza would be responsible for completing the work, Gilmore said; however, Rollins crews contracted to lay the underground cable would possibly do additional work as well.

The Indian Ridge residents who attended this week's meeting seemed most concerned about having the underground cable installed. Conflicts arose between Rollins and Vazza when the developer refused to allow the cable installation under the private streets, Gilmore said Wednesday.

Dan Lang of Cheyenne Circle, president of the Indian Ridge Neighborhood Association, urged his neighbors to keep their "principal focus" on getting their streets accepted as public ways. "The real issue has gotten lost in all the clamor over cable television," he said. Lang explained that unless the streets are accepted, residents may someday find themselves paying for pavement repairs, for example.

James Andry of Wabanaki Way asked why the board has waited more than three years before trying to force the developer to comply with its rules and regulations for subdivision streets.

Planner Margaret Bradshaw (who lives on Sioux Circle and said she would not vote on the matter) explained that former Community Development and Planning Director Rhys Kear had written to Vazza in 1980, but then resigned. For the next two years, the board had a "continuous" stream of new members, and the subdivision got lost in the shuffle.

The problem came to light again during the past year, when the planners began reviewing all unaccepted streets, Bradshaw said.

She added that as part of the written agreement, the town should give Vazza a deadline for completing the work — one that would leave the town enough time to call in the bond and complete the work before town meeting if the developer fails to comply.

"This has gone on long enough — it's ridiculous," the planner said. "If the developer doesn't come through, the residents should be assured that the town will have it done so the roads can be accepted."

Bradshaw suggested an Oct. 1 deadline,

Possibility Of Night Games

Friday night football games at Andover High School? The selectmen this week said they are willing to "seriously consider" installing lights at Lovely Field to make that possible.

Selectman William Dalton suggested that the board find out how much it would cost to light the high school field so that football games could be played on Friday nights instead of Saturday afternoons.

"It'll be a money-maker," the selectman said, noting that night games have proved successful for other area towns.

Dalton recommended that the board appoint a committee to study costs and report to town meeting, which would have to appropriate funds for the lighting.

but Gilmore said Nov. 15 would be "more realistic."

Town counsel Thomas Arnold told the board they are in a "pretty strong position" to call the bond, and Greer said that if it becomes necessary, he would have "no reluctance" about calling the bond.

Ms. Miller To Study In England

Louise C. Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn K. Miller, 154 Main St., Andover, will study abroad during the Fall 1983 semester with the Syracuse University Division of International Programs Abroad (DIPA) in London, England. She is a junior at Syracuse University, majoring in painting.

S.U. maintains study centers in London, England, Strasbourg, France, Florence, Italy, and Madrid, Spain. About 900 students live and study abroad each year. More than half of them come from schools other than Syracuse University. They are undergraduates and graduate students from almost every major field of study.

Students admitted into the program must have permission from their home institution and be in good academic standing. Academic credits earned appear on a S.U. transcript and are transferrable. A language background is not a prerequisite for study in Florence, Madrid and Strasbourg. However, students soon become fluent in the native language as a result of intensive language study and living in a private home.

Courses are offered in liberal arts, engineering, drama, business, architecture, art, communications, education and many other areas. S.U.'s overseas programs provide a rich experience that can't be duplicated in any American classroom.

Painting Exhibition

James M. Brown, director of The Society of the Four Arts, has announced the 45th Annual Exhibition of Contemporary American Paintings, traditionally one of the most important contemporary shows in the Southeast.

All artists resident in the United States may participate. Original oils, acrylics, watercolors, drawings, mixed media and flat collages completed since January 1982 are eligible. Graphics other than drawings are not eligible. Slides are not acceptable for jurying. Works must not exceed 72" in height or width. Each artist may submit up to two entries.

The exhibition will be juried by Henry T. Hopkins, director of the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art in California.

Entry forms must be postmarked by October 15. Works must be delivered to The Society of the Four Arts by October 29.

The prospectus and entry forms may be obtained by contacting The Society of the Four Arts, Four Arts Plaza, Palm Beach, Fla. 33480.

College Aid

Student College Aid, a nationwide, computerized, scholarship locator service, searches out scholarships and loans. Students contact the company for free information and a personalized dataform which they receive in the mail.

Students fill in the dataform as completely as possible. This information is coded into the computer. The computer searches through thousands of sources and prints out those to which the student is eligible to apply. The printout is mailed to the student who then contacts the funding sources.

Student College Aid guarantees to furnish at least five listings or to refund payment along with those listings discovered. There is a discount for families with more than one student.

SCA has added three new services: an Athletic Award Matching Service for women and men; a 4-Year College Matching Service; a Graduate School Scholarship and Loan Locator Service.

For free information and individualized dataforms, write Student College Aid, 3641 Deal St., Houston, TX 77025. Fall of '84 matriculants should begin their search now.

53 journalists from 16 countries named it Europe's "Car of The Year."

We named it the new Audi 5000S.

Audi When the new Audi 5000S was voted Europe's "Car of The Year," we were, of course, pleased. But we weren't surprised.

You won't be either once you drive it.

How many other five-passenger luxury touring sedans can accelerate from zero to 50 in just 8 seconds? Or cut through wind resistance with the impunity of a sports car? Or handle superbly, even in tight-cornering situations?

The new 5000S, with its advanced German engineering, can do all this. And more. In fact, after 6 years of designing and refining and over 3.2 million kilometers of road testing, this just may be the most roadworthy luxury sedan ever built

The 5000S is also the product of fresh design ideas. For example, the idea of flush-mounted side windows and bonded front and rear windows (which not only help reduce drag but virtually eliminate wind noise)

What's more, you'll like the idea of our new 24-month, unlimited mileage warranty* and the long-term reliability that prompted it.

But, most of all, you'll like driving the new Audi 5000S

Not because all those experts did. But for all the same reasons they did.

Continuum Program

Continuum, a Newton-based school, was the first in the country to offer internship training for re-entry women. Classes are aimed at helping career-minded women understand their skills, the practical options open to them and the methods for gaining successful entry to a field of choice. More than 250 women, with or without college backgrounds, have taken advantage of the Continuum programs so far. Through internship training, graduates of the school have entered a variety of fields, including advertising, personnel, finance, banking, high-tech, development and tourism.

The current programs are 22 weeks long and include two nine-week, on-the-job training opportunities. In addition to the supervised training in a new field, women meet regularly with their career counselor and in groups for direction and support. They attend more than 20 workshops to develop work-related skills such as resume writing, interviewing, public speaking and assertiveness training.

Open house information sessions are held regularly to introduce each new program and interested women should call Continuum for the schedule of these events and for program details.

REALTOR

POWER OF ATTORNEY

Sometimes the seller of property is not able to personally go through all the procedures necessary in selling it. He may, for example, have to leave the city for important business. He can then, if he wants to, appoint an agent to handle things for him. This agent is called an "attorney-in-fact" and acts under what is legally known as a "power of attorney". This individual could be a Realtor or attorney. He acts for the seller.

Under the power of attorney, the agent can convey property. He can execute a mortgage and its assignment, extension, or satisfaction. With a power of attorney to make a sale, he can sign the deed on behalf of the owner.

When a person appoints an agent to act under a power of attorney regarding real estate matters, this fact must be recorded in the county where the property is located. The reason for this is so that the purchaser may know the agent is duly authorized to act for the principal (seller). The agent cannot delegate HIS authority unless he is expressly authorized to do so.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

A Glimmer Of Hope Seen For Lowell Junction Interchange

Andover may be seeing, once again, a glimmer of hope for a Lowell Junction interchange.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said last week he believes the town is "starting to make some progress" in its 25-year quest for an interchange off Route 93 that would lighten industrial traffic that now travels through Ballardvale on its way to Lowell Junction industries.

The manager told the Reuse Committee last Tuesday that the state has agreed to allow Andover to file a request for a waiver to a government regulation that requires a minimum distance between interchanges off interstate highways. Under that regulation, an interchange off I-93 would not be allowed at Lowell Junction because it would be too close to existing interchanges at Route 125 and Dascomb Road.

If state officials okay the town's request for a waiver, the request will be forwarded to federal officials, the manager indicated.

Mahony said compiling the request will be "a big planning job" that will include population studies, truck traffic surveys and future traffic projections. He will hire a project planner to work on the project, the manager said, adding that he did not know how long the project might take to complete.

If a waiver is granted, it will not specify what type of interchange could be built (a full cloverleaf as opposed to a slip ramp, for example); that would be determined later. But Mahony said a full interchange now seems unlikely, since he believes state officials have "given up on" that option.

State and federal funds would be used to help build a Lowell Junction interchange, he added.

Walking, Running Okay With Board

Two special events will be held in Andover this fall — one a walk and one a run — with the selectmen's approval.

The board Monday night okayed plans for a Freeze Walk on Saturday, Oct. 1, starting at 9:30 a.m. The walk will be sponsored by the National Freeze Campaign, which advocates a nuclear freeze agreement between the United States and the Soviet Union.

And the Greater Lawrence Road Race Committee of the American Cancer Society was given permission to hold its fifth annual "Race Against Cancer" road race on Sunday, Nov. 13, beginning at 1 p.m.

The town manager recommended approval of both requests, with arrangements to be made with the Police Department.

Johnny Miller won golf's biggest purse in history when he won $500,000 in last year's Sun City Golf Challenge played in Sun City, Bophuthatswana.
